EEOC provides speakers on numerous topics, including

Federal Laws Prohibiting Employment Discrimination.

EEOC enforces Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits employment discrimination on the bases of race, color, religion, sex (including sexual harassment), and national origin; the Equal Pay Act; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (for persons over 40 years of age); and the Americans With Disabilities Act, Title I (Employment).

The Civil Rights Movement in the United States (which led to the enactment of the federal employment antidiscrimination laws enforced by EEOC). These topics may be especially appropriate during Black History Month, Women's History Month, etc.

Career Day Speakers are available on professional and administrative positions, including EEOC Trial Attorney and EEOC Investigator.

- Host school organized field event

The EEOC Cleveland District Office is able to host a class of up to 40 students at our offices for a 1- to 2-hour program. The topics may be especially relevant to business, including business law classes, and American history classes.

- Website resources: www.eeoc.gov

The EEOC website includes information about the EEOC Commission, Enforcement and Litigation Statistics, EEOC Regulations and Guidance, Press Releases, and a Small Business Section, which provides user friendly, nonlegalese information.

- Publications or other resources

EEOC provides information materials about the federal laws which prohibit employment discrimination. Some of the most commonly requested materials include

- FACT sheets (on prohibited practices under race/color, religion, national origin, sexual harassment, disability, and age discrimination)
- EEOC questions and answers—Federal laws prohibiting job discrimination
- Filing a charge of job discrimination

- EEOC's 35th Anniversary book, "Ensuring the Promise of Opportunity for 35 Years" is suitable for inclusion in the school library. The book chronicles the civil rights movement which led to the enactment of federal antidiscrimination laws, including the creation of EEOC, and some landmark court cases.

• Speakers Bureau

EEOC provides speakers on numerous topics, including

Federal Laws Prohibiting Employment Discrimination.

EEOC enforces Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits employment discrimination on the bases of race, color, religion, sex (including sexual harassment), and national origin; the Equal Pay Act; the Age Discrimination in Employment Act (for persons over 40 years of age); and the Americans With Disabilities Act, Title I (Employment).

The Civil Rights Movement in the United States (which led to the enactment of the federal employment antidiscrimination laws enforced by EEOC). These topics may be especially appropriate during Black History Month, Women's History Month, etc.

Career Day Speakers are available on professional and administrative positions, including EEOC Trial Attorney and EEOC Investigator.

• Host school organized field event

The EEOC Cleveland District Office is able to host a class of up to 40 students at our offices for a 1- to 2-hour program. The topics may be especially relevant to business, including business law classes, and American history classes.

• Website resources: www.eeoc.gov

The EEOC website includes information about the EEOC Commission, Enforcement and Litigation Statistics, EEOC Regulations and Guidance, Press Releases, and a Small Business Section, which provides user friendly, nonlegalese information.

• Publications or other resources

EEOC provides information materials about the federal laws which prohibit employment discrimination. Some of the most commonly requested materials include

- FACT sheets (on prohibited practices under race/color, religion, national origin, sexual harassment, disability, and age discrimination)
 - EEOC questions and answers—Federal laws prohibiting job discrimination
 - Filing a charge of job discrimination
- EEOC's 35th Anniversary book, "Ensuring the Promise of Opportunity for 35 Years" is suitable for inclusion in the school library. The book chronicles the civil rights movement which led to the enactment of federal antidiscrimination laws, including the creation of EEOC, and some landmark court cases.
